The office is operating 24 hours a day. Two full-time investigators and one part-time administrative assistant, the Ashtabula County Coroner's Office, were allowed by Ohio state law to conduct an unexpectedly sudden, unnatural, suspicious or fatal investigation. The Ohio Legislature has chosen to separate the coroner's office from law enforcement and has specifically authorized the coroner's office to investigate the deaths. Standard forensic (medical and legal) issues in the coroner's death investigation require medical facts, and often many non-medical facts allow conclusions about the nature of death. An investigation by a specially trained coroner will be crucial. Some of the responsibilities of the Ashtabula County Coroner's Office include: determining the estimated date and time of death, including the cause and nature of death, determining the need for an autopsy and/or toxicology photos and scene documents, maintaining the process, and collecting evidence at the scene, including interviews, witnesses, family members, doctors. The honorable removal of the corpse, with the timely notice of the next sign of relatives and the filing of a death certificate, a response card and a thorough investigation of the scene of death 24 hours a day/ 7 days a week, the coroner's office interacts with family members during and after the death investigation to ensure that the investigation is impartial, accurate and thorough. The coroner's office is also working closely with other agencies, including law enforcement, government agencies and health, hospitals and funeral homes. Training and education are key issues with the coroner's office. Office provides Training in the field of death investigation, law enforcement, fire, health and community service agencies. The coroner and investigators are also receiving ongoing studies by participating in the investigation into the death of the medical and forensic seminars.m. - 13.m.Thu.9 .m - 11:30 a.m..m.24/7Ph: 440-998-4791 (24 hours) hours
